Convocation Keynotes Opening

The 1971-72 school year at Mary Washington got underway Wednesday, September 1, with the traditional Chancellor's Convocation, marking the earliest opening ever at the College.

Lawrence A. Wishner

Under the new academic calendar, enacted by the faculty last spring, the first semester opened more than two weeks earlier than it did last year and will end before Christmas. The second semester will begin in mid-January with commencement exercises for the Class of 1972 on May 20.

Although the Chancellor's Convocation is a tradition at the College, the ceremony this year departed markedly from those of the past. For the first time the formal ceremony with academic regalia was held in the morning and in the outdoor amphitheatre on the campus.

Two speakers, Mr. Lawrence A. Wishner, Assistant Dean of the College for Instruction, and Miss Ann Welsh, Executive Chairman of the Student Association, addressed the audience of nearly 1,000, setting the tone for the 1971-72 session. Miss Welsh is the first student to speak at the opening Convocation.

Following the formal ceremonies, students and faculty met informally in smaller groups to discuss the two speeches and to consider Mary Washington's role in the future of higher education. The day concluded with a picnic supper for everyone on the hockey field and a showing of "Gone With the Wind" in George Washington Auditorium.

Also highlighting the formal exercises was the awarding of Intermediate Honors to six students who maintained a 3.75 or higher grade point average during their freshman and sophomore years at Mary Washington College. One recipient, Miss Sondra Lee Turner of Anandale, was also awarded the Alpha Phi Sigma award for achieving the highest academic average among members of the Class of '73.

Others receiving Intermediate Honors included Miss Sara Lynn Blossom of Salisbury, Maryland, who is now participating in the nursing program at the University of Virginia, Miss Mary Darden Camp of Moreland, Georgia; Miss Theresa Marie Carroll of Alexandria; Miss Gayle Elizabeth Easter of Trumbull, Connecticut, who is spending her junior year in London; and Miss Catherine S. Elwell of Springfield, who is spending her junior year in Paris.

Mr. Wishner:

"The Continuing Search"

The 1971-72 academic year is one in which we will realize the results of strenuous planning. We have a new set of degree requirements to implement for the first time and which I anticipate will proceed with unprecedented smoothness and cooperation. We have an entirely new academic advising program the operation of which I expect will proceed with unprecedented smoothness and cooperation. If I sound optimistic, forgive me, for at a time characterized by economic turmoil, the possibility of ecological doom, and possibly the lowest point in many years in the public attitude toward education, there is no room for pessimism. Optimism is the only alternative to despair.

There is one issue, however, the issue of the governance of this college, that has not yet been brought to the point of action. It is this issue, about which I am also optimistic, that I would like to address as we begin the new academic year together.

Last year an ad hoc committee dealt with the problem and dealt with it too quickly. A semester of committee planning and part of a semester of community discussion did not resolve the question. The committee's recommendations were judged to be inadequate. I will not criticize the committee, especially since I was a member of it, but the time allotted to the problem was too little. The feverish pitch of consideration last spring may be compared with the current public reaction to the ecological crisis, the replacement of known evils with poorly understood unknown ones. We have all heard of the ecological danger from phosphates in detergents. Under public pressure, the detergent industry's first reaction was to replace them with soda. Last year some 4,000 persons were treated at poison control centers throughout the country after swallowing detergents. Had the detergents contained soda instead of phosphate, these people would all be dead. As Philip Handler, the President of the National Academy of Sciences, put it "the lesson to those who hurriedly attempt simplistic solutions to grave problems is 'use well before shaking'."

The ad hoc committee's specific recommendation of a College Council was rejected, but the problem of faculty-student governance did not die with this rejection. As one of the characters in Friedrich Durrenmatt's play The Physicists observed "that which has been thought can never be unthought." In preparing the institutional self-study report to the Southern

Miss Welsh:

"The Facilitation of Change"

I suppose that I first thought of education as a continuous process near the end of my freshman year at Mary Washington. Along with thousands of other students, I was disenchanted with our system of higher education. I wasn't consciously learning anything, most of what I was taught seemed to be barely on a par with my high school learning experiences. All of this disenchantment I mistakenly attributed to Mary Washington. Because I have discovered that the faults of our educational systems are found in our lack of renewal within the system and within ourselves.

Education has been defined as the purposeful creation, evocation or transmission of knowledge, abilities, skills and values. The central figure in this "educating" process has been the teacher. Teaching as defined by Webster, means "to instruct, to impart knowledge or skill, to make to know." As a student, I have little interest in being instructed by another person what I should know or think. A book or a system of programmed instruction can be as effective and certainly more efficient than having a teacher impart knowledge or skills. And I find annoying the suggestion that anyone should make me know anything. If this is teaching, then it is, as Carl Rogers says, "a relatively unimportant and vastly over-rated function."

He goes on to say, in part, "Teaching and the imparting of knowledge make sense in an unchanging environment. Perhaps this is why it has been an unquestioned function for years. But modern man lives in a constantly changing environment. Thus the subject matter of all disciplines is ever changing. Therefore, we are faced with an entirely new situation in education where the goal, if we are to survive, must be the facilitation of change and the facilitation of learning. The only man who is educated is the man who has learned how to adapt and change; the man who has realized that no knowledge is secure and that only the process of seeking knowledge gives a basis for security, the man that has learned how to learn. Changingness, a reliance on process rather than upon static knowledge, is the only thing that makes any sense as a goal for education in the modern world. Therefore, the purpose of education should be the facilitation of learning; to free curiosity; to permit individuals to go charging off in new directions dictated by their own interests; to unleash the sense of inquiry; to open everything to questioning and exploration, and to recognize that

Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, a report which should be available to the academic community within the next two weeks, the steering committee approved "whole heartedly increased participation of students, through representation at the meetings of standing committees, ad hoc committees and departments, in the revision and formulation of course offerings, major programs, and degree programs." The Steering Committee believed "that increased student participation in the evaluation of the instructional program of the college is desirable." It further urges a renewal of the search for a workable form of faculty-student governance. Finally it suggested the possibility of adapting to present conditions the concept of an academic council, which was proposed ten years ago by the Visiting Committee of the last Self-Study.

We must address this problem directly and forcefully for behind it lies the basic democratic principle that all who are affected by a government must have a voice in determining its policies.

Perhaps a brief look at the history of governance in higher education will be helpful in establishing a framework for consideration. The earliest universities in Italy in the twelfth century were run by the students. They governed by the power of boycott. The universities or guild of students as a governing body included neither faculty nor administration. The teachers later formed their own guild or collegium which had little authority over the practices of education and retained only the unequivocal right to determine its own membership. How little this resembles the picture today. What happened? In time the teachers, resenting tyrannical student control allied themselves with external authorities, the city governments, the Church, the kings, in order to free themselves of the total governance of the students. Gradually the financial needs of the educational system were satisfied more and more by these external authorities and, in turn, the external authorities expected to exercise more control over the system. Thus the concept of governing boards, which exists to the present time, evolved and by the seventeenth century student autonomy had been destroyed. And so it is today. Attempts to change the system in the United States during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries were sporadic when the second world war entrenched the status quo by producing, in its aftermath, an excess of student applicants and a scarcity of faculty applicants. Since competent faculty were scarce, their interests had to be promoted. But this situation no longer obtains. It has been dramatically reversed during the last several years.

What other changes have occurred recently? Biologists tell us that over the past 150 years, because of improvements in nutrition and health, the age of biological adolescence has been advanced by about four years. What was formerly a conspicuous hiatus between the time of reaching the biological capacity for adulthood and the time at which the young person is actually admitted to adult status has been acknowledged by the amendment to the United States Constitution which reduced the voting age to 18. Consequently, although our society is still not geared to the most effective utilization of the young people, their educational, economic and social responsibility should no longer be seriously questioned.

In terms then of this legislatively recognized responsibility, ways must be found to utilize the talents and ideas of the young within the framework of higher education since higher education is the principle endeavor available to their creative energies. We can no longer exclude the most numerous and most concerned members of the academic community from the processes that so affect their lives. The view that learning takes place only in formal instruction is outmoded. The mission of college is education, which includes every influence and condition of living in the academic community that shapes the lives of those who come here to be educated. The present system of excluding students from governance implies that the theoretical and practical problems of the academic establishment are so complex that they cannot be comprehended and dealt with by the very same individuals whom we consider sufficiently mature intellectually and morally to comprehend in depth the sophisticated subjects in our curriculum.

Experience at other institutions and here at Mary Washington last spring shows that the idea of student participation is generally acceptable. The question is not whether but how. Experience also suggests that a genuine community type academic organization will encourage all to put the common good above their own interests. As Rousseau has stated:

... agreement of all interests is produced by opposition to that of each. If there were no different interests, we should scarcely perceive the common interest, which never finds any opposer; everything would go on regularly of its self, and politics be no longer an art.

And as he later points out: "peace, union, and equality are the enemies of political liberties."

And so, the issues of academic governance turn out to be political, not educational, for we are agreed that education is our one business. The question is, then, how to bring the experiences and ideas of students into academic political processes within the framework of our own unique institution, for it is the uniqueness of American institutions that is their strength.

The Self-Study Steering Committee has reminded us of still another model described ten years ago. Perhaps this can be a starting point. For we must devise a system with the proper degrees of representation based upon the appropriate degrees of responsibility, a system which will give us the unity of a responsible academic community. And we must do it now—with unprecedented smoothness and cooperation.

Student Loan Funds Announced For 1971-72

Mary Washington College was among 54 Virginia colleges named to share $4.7 million under the National Federal Student Loan Program during 1971-72.

The College will receive $37,450, the amount requested by Registrar Jane N. Saladin and more than double the $15,620 received last year.

This allocation brings to $72,100 the total level of lending under the federal program for the 1972 fiscal year. It represents an increase of more than $10,000 in the lending level over that of a year ago.

everything is in a process of change."

How does one facilitate the learning process? It seems to me that all human beings have a natural potential for learning, we are all by nature curious. This curiosity can be utilized as a key to the learning process or it can be stunted in the educational experience by an emphasis upon methodology, upon the "right" way of doing something, or by a rigid, closed, authoritarian structure.

A person learns significantly only those things which he perceives as being involved in the maintenance of or the enhancement of his own self. Much significant learning is acquired through doing and learning is facilitated when the student participates responsibly in the learning process. But the most socially useful learning in the modern world is the learning of the process of learning, a continuing openness to experience and incorporation into oneself of the process of change.

The basis of any significant learning process is found in the attitude and method of the facilitator, or if you will, the teacher. The facilitator has a great deal to do with setting the initial mood or climate of the class experience. If his own basic philosophy is one of trust, this feeling will be transmitted in many subtle ways. The facilitator helps to elicit and explain the purposes of the individuals within the class as well as the more general purposes of the entire class. It should then be the responsibility of the student to implement those purposes which have personal meaning as the motivational force behind significant learning. The facilitator must regard himself as a flexible resource to be utilized by the class. As attitudes within the class are established, and an acceptable classroom climate is developed, the participant should be and is able to become a participant learner, a member of the class.

But in functioning as a facilitator of learning, the teacher should endeavor to recognize and accept his limitations. The teacher can grant freedom to the extent that he is comfortable in giving such freedom. This also applies to sharing feelings and attitudes, and participating as a member of a learning experience. Once their limitations are accepted, both teachers and students will be aware of a strong foundation for communication and a better atmosphere, conducive to significant learning.

For the student, I believe that significant learning is achieved only when it is self-motivated. Too often this is not the case. If we are led, patronized, confused or thwarted in our educational experience, it is only because we allow it to happen. We cannot continue to be passive learners. Significant learning involves risk. It involves some insecurity, it can often be a struggle. The key to success in such a process is the desire of the learner. Perhaps desire is too idealistic a word. We are forced by our society into a state of constant learning if we hope to keep pace with the constant change. Each student must make a kind of contractual agreement with each of his teachers. If significant learning is to be achieved, the goals of the student and the teacher must coincide. Any grading must be defined by the ability and success of both participants in the learning experience. This judgement cannot be arbitrary, to be truly justified, it must be determined by both the teacher and the student. Ideally, grading should take the form of written evaluations by both teacher and student. If such shallow grading systems as we have now continue to be required by society, we should not limit ourselves to this shallowness. The significance of any learning experience is in its value to the learner. From such valuable experiences, our motivation for learning is created.

Education must be a constantly renewed process. We cannot afford complacency or sluggishness within ourselves or within our educational institutions. We must constantly strive to build the atmosphere most conducive to significant learning. Learning requires a great amount of freedom within ourselves and within our environment. We are mature, responsible individuals capable of administering and benefiting from this freedom. My philosophy of education is one of self-motivated learning. I think that in a community involved in this process, real freedom can be attained, the participants can thrive in an atmosphere of mutual respect and esteem.

Editorial Policy

Because of space limitations the editors must reserve the right to determine the content of the publications. In general, news articles should contain information of general interest to alumnae and to the College community. The class columns should contain news pertaining to members of the class or items of interest to them. Personal opinions should be expressed in the form of letters to the editor. These will be printed within the limitations of space and good taste. The editors regret that it is not possible to print unsolicited contributions from individuals or groups. However, ideas for stories or original pieces are encouraged and may be submitted in advance to the editor who will give them every consideration.

President's Annual Report—1970-71

Shortly after the year began, a telegram received by the College was a source of great pride for all alumnae. The telegram, which arrived on September 11, offered "congratulations on council vote approving the establishment of Phi Beta Kappa chapter at Mary Washington College." A letter was dispatched to the Chancellor expressing the Association's gratitude for this accomplishment.

In spite of this auspicious beginning, the alumnae year also contained its inauspicious moments. One of the first actions required of the Executive Committee was a paring of expenditures in the year's budget to a reasonably sound figure based upon a realistic estimate of the receipt of funds that could be anticipated for the year. The result was a revised budget, calling for approximately $5,000 less in expenditures, which was accepted and approved by the Board.

Beginning this year, the Association's program year, like the fiscal year, covered the period from July 1 through June 30. Although some adjustments were required the first year the new arrangement appears to have many advantages.

If the year's activities were to be characterized, this, no doubt, would be called the year of policy and procedure formulation. As your Executive Committee approached task after task, the need for more specific guidelines and procedures became apparent.

Among the first major tasks undertaken was the revision of the Bylaws of the Association. In the process of growing and maturing, the Association found itself governed by conflicting rules and procedures as well as by rules which clearly needed revision. A committee appointed by the President and chaired by Jane Howard Patrick, after a great deal of research and consultation, presented recommendations to the Board. After appropriate deliberations revised Bylaws were adopted. They have now, been published and copies have been distributed to all class agents, chapter presidents and Members of the Board. They are available to any alumna, upon request, from the Alumnae Office. There were some rather far-reaching changes, therefore, in the near future those changes that will have the most significant effects upon the day-to-day operation of the Association will be published.

After operating for five years under the procedures originally adopted for selecting the Distinguished Alumna, there began to be increasing concern that some of the procedures were not working very well. In addition, conflict with the Bylaws also caused difficulties. Using the recommendations for change set forth by the selection committee for the 1970 award, your President appointed a committee, chaired by Peggy Kelly Reinburg, to study the procedures. New procedures have been approved by the Board and are scheduled to be printed in a forthcoming issue of Alumnae News.

In two other areas new procedures were hammered out and adopted. These were procedures for the guidance of the committee which will propose nominations to the Board of Visitors and procedures to govern the actions of the Nomination-Election Committee.

The Association's accomplishments in several areas of concern deserve comment. One of the first was an Alumnae Council Convention that was held at the College on November 7. Fifty-six alumnae (including 35 class representatives and eight chapter representatives) participated, along with college officials, faculty and students. The report of the convention will provide future guidance for Alumnae Council action.

In conjunction with the planning of the Convention and as an aid to the persons in attendance, an Alumnae Chapter Handbook was completed and distributed. This project was completed after several years of work involving many people. The Handbook will serve as a much-needed guide to those persons involved in organizing and operating local alumnae chapters.

This year two new alumnae chapters have been formed: one in Northern New Jersey and a second one in Dayton, Ohio. Although efforts were made to establish a third chapter in Cincinnati, the state of development was such that no official action could be taken.

A search for missing alumnae was actively pursued this year under the direction of Barbara B. Powell '71, Office of the Chancellor. Over 600 missing alumnae were found but there are still several thousand missing. Each alumna is urged to check class lists of missing persons and advise the Alumnae Office of any person whose whereabouts are known to her.

The unquestionable highlight of the year's activities was the appearance of the first Distinguished Visitor in Residence. This program, originated and financed by the Alumnae Association, is designed to bring distinguished persons to the campus. The first Visitor, Dr. Margaret Mead, was by all measures an unqualified success when she "took over" the campus on April 29 and 30.

Homecoming this year, held April 16-18, represented a departure from previous years when the date coincided with graduation. The date required that alumnae use commercial housing accommodations but, at the same time, it permitted many opportunities for alumnae to interact with faculty and students at study and work. Upon the basis of numerous comments Homecoming can safely be characterized a successful event.

In spite of many problems, the year was a good one. Alumnae involved in various tasks or projects worked closely with selected members of the faculty and the administration. Of particular note is the guidance and consultation received from Chancellor Simpson as he sought to make the Association an integral part of the College. Further, Mr. Michael Houston's willingness to make himself available on a minute's notice has helped to make the Alumnae-College relationship operate smoothly during the year. The Association is grateful for their patience and understanding.

And now, if I may be permitted to add a personal note, I would like to express my appreciation for your support during the past year. Even though the responsibilities became a bit weighty at times, I very much appreciate the privilege and honor of serving as your President.

Ruby York Weinbrecht
President, Alumnae Association

Call For Nominations

The Distinguished Alumna Award Committee of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association has announced that nominations for the 1972 award must be submitted by December 1, 1971. The award will be presented during the Homecoming program, April 28-30, 1972.

The Alumnae Association established this award in 1965 to recognize annually an alumna of the college who has distinguished herself by contributions to her profession, civic activities, the arts and/or sciences, or humanitarian causes. Any alumna is eligible for the award except members of the current Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association. Only one award is made each year.

Previous recipients of the award are Mrs. Aileen Hirschman Belford '43, Miss Clara Boyd Wheeler '31, the late Mrs. Katherine Dryden August '37, Mrs. Margaret Lodge Copes '32, and Mrs. Willie Lee Nichols Rose '47.

Nominations may be made by any individual. The following information should be included in a letter of nomination: name, class and current address of the nominee; reasons for the nomination; specific biographical information; and references for the nomination; other references who may be contacted; and the name and address of the person making the nomination.

The selection committee is appointed by the President of the Alumnae Association and is chaired this year by Mrs. Margaret Smith Graham '47. Final approval of the award's choice must be made by the Executive Committee of the Alumnae Association.

The committee has urged that nominations be sent as soon as possible to the Distinguished Alumna Award Committee, care of MWC Alumnae Association, Box 1315 College Station, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

Early Notice of Homecoming 1972

Plans are underway for Homecoming 1972, scheduled for April 28-30. The classes of 1971, 1967, 1962, 1957, 1952, 1947, 1942, 1937, 1932, 1927, 1922, and 1917 will be hearing from their class agents soon regarding reunion. The weekend is being planned to interest husbands as well as alumnae. Because Homecoming will be at the end of Garden Week in Virginia, it is suggested that you make reservations for hotel/motel accommodations well in advance. Watch for further Homecoming announcements in future publications.

The following list of hotels or motels in the Fredericksburg area is included for your convenience in making arrangements (indicates those within easy walking distance of the College):

Danforth Foundation Announces Graduate Fellowships For Women

The Danforth Foundation has announced its eighth annual Graduate Fellowships for Women competition which is designed for that group of American women whose preparation has been postponed or interrupted.

The Fellowships are open to women who hold bachelor's degrees from accredited colleges or universities in the United States and each candidate at some time in her career must have experienced a continuous break in her education of at least three years duration. The Foundation also specifies that the applicant may not be employed as a full-time teacher or enrolled as a full-time graduate student.

The career of a typical recipient may have been interrupted such factors as the raising of her family, personal illness, or the need for a paying job. The objective of the program is to find and develop college and secondary teachers.

Thirty-five of the Fellowships are awarded each year. Selection is made without reference to race, creed, citizenship or marital status. Candidates may or may not have had experience in teaching. There is no age limitation, though preference will be given candidates whose programs of study call for completion by no later than age 50.

Appointment is for one year beginning September 1, 1972, and is renewable annually. The maximum award for 1972-73 will be $3,000 plus tuition and fees, or, for heads of families, $4,000 plus tuition and fees.

A brochure, Danforth Foundation Graduate Fellowships for Women, provides fuller information about the program and may be requested from the Director, Graduate Fellowships for Women, Danforth Foundation, 222 South Central Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

Fourteen Join Faculty For 1971-72

Fourteen new faculty members have joined the Mary Washington College staff for the 1971-72 school session including several in new areas of study.

Four of the new appointees are assuming duties in newly created positions, while ten are filling existing vacancies. There are now 156 full or part-time members of the MWC faculty, including four members on leave of absence for the opening of the 1971-72 session.

Three of the four new positions were made possible by the National Science Foundation grant to the College under the College Science Improvement Program. These include assistant professorships in geology, linguistics, and statistics. The fourth new position was an assistant professorship in geology.

In addition to those on leave of absence, there were also four members of the faculty and staff who retired at the conclusion of the 1970-71 school year. These included Mr. Edward Alvey, Professor of Education and Dean of the College from 1934 to 1967; Mrs. Mildred M. Bolling, Professor of Modern Foreign Languages and a member of the faculty for 43 years; Mr. Clifton B. McIntosh, Professor of Modern Foreign Languages for 25 years; and Mrs. Marian R. Watts, Head Cataloguer in E. Lee Trinkle Library and a member of the staff for 19 years.

Granted leaves of absence for the 1971-72 school session were Mr. George Van Sant, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Philosophy, to do post doctoral work at Cambridge University in England; Mrs. Mary W. Plasmid, Assistant Professor of Biology, to continue doctoral work. Mr. Galo Rene

Perez, Associate Professor of Modern Foreign Languages, to continue a study project in Ecuador sponsored by the University of New Mexico; and Miss Constance L. Jones, Instructor in Sociology, to pursue doctoral studies. New appointees include:

Donald V. Byrd, Assistant Professor of Geography formerly on the faculty of Syracuse University, Arkansas A & M College, State College of Arkansas, and the University of Southern Mississippi, who holds a bachelor of science and masters degrees from the University of Southern Mississippi, and is also a doctoral candidate at Syracuse University. He is a native of Mobile, Alabama.

Dr. Kent W. Butzine, Assistant Professor of Psychology, a native of Oak Park, Illinois, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from Northwestern University and Masters and Ph. D. from the University of North Carolina.

Dennis G. Daluio, Assistant Professor of Dramatic Arts, a former teacher of speech and drama in Lackawanna, New York, who holds a bachelor of science degree from Canisius College and a master of fine arts degree from the Yale School of Drama.

Dr. Stephen A. Disraeli, Assistant

Professor of Linguistics, a native of Los Angeles, California who holds a bachelor of arts degree from New York University, a Masters and Ph.D. degrees from Indiana University, as well as French certificates from McGill University and Université de Dijon.

Dr. Eric V. Eslinger, Assistant Professor of Geology, who comes to MWC following research and teaching assistantships at Case Western Reserve University and is a native of West Virginia and holds a B.S. from West Virginia University and a Ph.D. from Case Western Reserve.

Kathleen A. Harty, Instructor in Health - Physical Education and Recreation, who holds a B.S. from the Julliard School in her native New York and who was previously an instructor at East Flatbush School of Music and Dance.

Barbara S. Hochstetler, Assistant Professor of Art, a native of St. Louis, Missouri, who holds a B.A. from Trinity University, a masters from the University of Maryland, and is a Ph.D. candidate at Johns Hopkins University and who has been an architectural historian with the National Register of Historic Places.

Dr. John C. Lambert, Assistant Professor of Statistics (also a new course) who is a native of Provo, Utah and holds degrees from Brigham Young University and North Carolina State University; has been an Assistant Professor at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University and systems analyst with American Cyanamid Corporation and an associate mathematician with Hercules Inc.

Alexander J. Lindsey, Assistant Professor of mathematics, is a native of Utica, New York, who holds degrees from the State University College at Cortland, New York, and Syracuse University, where he is currently a Ph.D. Candidate.

Lloyd J. Mallan, Assistant Professor of Dramatic Arts, a native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, who comes to MWC from the Peace Corps in India, India and holds degrees from Pennsylvania University and Carnegie Mellon University.

Paul B. Manchester, Assistant Professor of Economics, a Peace Corps Volunteer from Columbia, who holds degrees from Yale University and is a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Minnesota.

Sue Collins Tassey, Assistant Professor of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, hails from Richmond, Kentucky and holds degrees from Eastern Kentucky University and the University of Tennessee; and is a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Georgia.

Paul M. Zisman, Assistant Professor of Education, a Ph.D. candidate at Catholic University and a native of Washington who holds degrees from the College of William and Mary and Howard University and who, in addition to experience in a number of Washington urban work projects, has served in Venezuela as a Peace Corps Volunteer.

Performance By Odetta Opens Busy Concert Series

The Mary Washington College Concert Series for 1971-72 will open Thursday, September 30, 1971, with a performance by Odetta, the popular folk singer.

It is the first of five headline attractions scheduled for the current school season. Other attractions include Seals and Crofts, a rock group, on Thursday, October 21; The National Ballet, Monday, November 8; the Canadian Opera, Monday, March 6; and the Pro-Musica of New York on Thursday, April 27.

All performances will be presented in George Washington Auditorium and are scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m., with the exception of the National Ballet performance, which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

As in the past students and other members of the Mary Washington College community will have an opportunity to obtain tickets before they go on sale to the general public. Season tickets for the entire concert series will not be sold to the general public this year. Tickets for individual performances will cost $2.00.

The Canadian Opera has announced that it will present the comic opera "Orpheus in Hades" in its performance at Mary Washington, while the Pro-Musica will present "An Entertainment for Elizabeth."

Richard S. Cross Establishes Fund To Aid Students

Richard S. Cross, a former member of the University of Virginia Board of Visitors and the Mary Washington College Committee of the Board, has established a fund at Mary Washington to aid students working on independent study projects.

As established, grants will be made each year to support five or more individual study projects with an allowance of up to $500 per project. These grants will be awarded on a competitive basis to individual students who have registered for the appropriate course and have submitted a specific project proposal to the Deans' Committee on Special Degree Programs. Each student's project must be sponsored by a faculty member with the approval of the Department Chairman.

The awarded funds may be used for reasonable research expenses such as travel for research purposes or paper presentations, materials, clerical assistance, etc. A budget must be prepared for each proposal and the expenditure of funds must be approved in each instance by the student's research adviser and the Dean's Committee or the Dean.

Mr. Cross of Lafayette Hill, Pennsylvania, served on the Board of Visitors for eight years, retiring last spring. He was a member of the MWC Committee for the entire period. His daughter, Virginia Cross was a member of the Class of '69.

Klein Memorial Dedication Set For October 22, 1971

The Mary Washington College drama season will open Friday, October 22, with a benefit performance of "Three Sisters" by Anton Chekhov.

Proceeds from the opening night performance will go to the Albert R. Klein Memorial Scholarship Fund, which will establish two annual $500 scholarships for drama students.

In addition, the performance will mark the formal renaming and dedication of the theatre in duPont Hall as the Albert Roger Klein Memorial Theatre. At this time plaques so designating the theatre will be unveiled at the two entrances.

These two means of honoring the late Chairman of the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech who died October 6, 1970, were proposed by The Albert R. Klein Memorial Committee, which will handle the sale of tickets for the opening night performance.

The theatre, located in the Fine Arts Building and known for years as "the duPont Little Theatre," is currently undergoing refurbishing which will be completed in early October.

Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Turgeon, Associate Professor of Dramatic Arts and Acting Chairman of the Department, the Chekhov classic will also be performed on October 23, 25 and 26.

As part of the refurbishing, a new art curtain will be installed just in time for the production and new specialized lighting will also be ready for the play.

The remainder of the 1971-72 drama season also promises to be very active with a children's theatre production, and two other major productions scheduled thus far.

Miss Linda Ryan, a senior drama major from South Amboy, New Jersey, will direct the children's production to be presented on November 18, 19, and 20. Each year the Department presents such a production for the children of the Fredericksburg area community in conjunction with Children's Concerts, Inc. of Fredericksburg.

In March, Mr. Lloyd Mallan, Assistant Professor of Dramatic Arts, will direct the production of Moliere's "Don Juan." Mr. Mallan is a new faculty member and formerly studied at Carnegie-Mellon University where he received an MFA degree.

Third play is scheduled for April and will be performed in the Amphitheatre. A second new faculty member, Mr. Dennis Daluio, Assistant Professor of Dramatic Arts, will direct this final production and will also be concerned with special lighting for this and other productions. The recipient of an MFA degree from the Yale School of Drama, he served as lighting designer for the Yale Repertory Theatre while a student there.

Alumna Heads Fairfax School

Mrs. Doris Watts Torrice '50 has been named principal of Groveton High School, becoming the first woman high school principal in Fairfax County in more than 15 years.

A native of Spotsylvania County, Mrs. Torrice joined the Groveton High School staff in 1963 as a guidance counselor and was named assistant principal for administration in 1968.

An English major at Mary Washington College, she also holds a masters degree in education from the University of Virginia. She began her career as an English teacher in the Stafford County schools and indicated that at that time she had no thoughts of getting into the administrative side of education.

A Fairfax County school system spokesman said that while the county does have women as principals of elementary schools, and a woman superintendent, Mrs. Torrice is the first woman to take over "a large, modern high school" in the county, "certainly since World War II."

Mrs. Torrice, and her husband, Joseph, a paint store owner and painting contractor, have four children, Carolyn, a sophomore at William and Mary, and Joseph, Jr., Susan, and Paul, all attending schools in Prince William County where the family lives.

Two on Faculty Named Outstanding

Two Mary Washington College faculty members, Mrs. Laura V. Sumner and Mr. Lawrence A. Wisner, were among those named Outstanding Educators of America for 1971.

Outstanding Educators of America is an annual awards program honoring distinguished men and women for their exceptional service, achievements, and leadership in the field of education.

Nominations for the program are made by college officials and those chosen are featured in a national awards volume—OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA.

A member of the Mary Washington faculty since 1948, Mrs. Sumner is chairman and professor of the Department of Classics. For the past four years she has also served as director of summer programs at the College. In addition, she is a member of the Fredericksburg City Council.

Mr. Wisner, a professor of chemistry, joined the faculty in 1961 and served as chairman of the Department of Chemistry from 1967 until July of this year when he became Assistant Dean of the College for Instruction.

Student Participant In Portuguese Program

Anne A. Mesick '73, a student of Portuguese at MWC, was a participant this summer in the University of Miami of Ohio's exchange program with the Federal University of Parana, Brazil.

The American students spent nearly half the summer in Curitiba, capital city of Parana, in an unusual and intensive program of Brazilian studies.

In addition attending daily lectures and discussions on Brazil's customs, economy, history, language, literature, art and other topics, the students also lived with Brazilian families during their visit.

Miss Mesick of Germantown, New York, is a Latin American Studies major at Mary Washington.

Timatha Pierce '62, Ad Woman of Year

Timatha Stone Pierce '62 has been named Washington D.C.'s 1971 Ad Woman of the Year by the Women's Advertising Club of Washington.

The manager of advertising promotion and publicity for NBC's WRC-Radio for the past six years, Miss Pierce was selected in recognition of her steady practice of community service ideals and her encouragement of young talent.

A dramatic arts and speech major at MWC, Miss Pierce has served as chairman of the UGF Speakers Bureau, 1968-69; publicity chairman of the Cherry Blossom Fashion Show Luncheon and Gala in 1969 and 1970; assisted in advertising programs presented by the Women's Advertising Club at American University and in the career Day Seminars conducted by American women in Radio and Television; and sponsored poster contests for local art students.

MWC CHAIRS AVAILABLE

Mary Washington College chairs are now being made available through the Mary Washington Club of Delaware.

Initiated by the Club in an effort to raise funds for the Alumnae Association, the chairs bearing the MWC seal are to be produced by S. Bent and Brother, Inc., of Gardner, Massachusetts. The New England firm has been manufacturing chairs such as this for more than a century and guarantees them fully against defective material or workmanship.

There are four models varying in price from $26.25 to $44.75. They include an adult arm chair with cherry arms for $44.75 (Model No. 342-219); an adult arm chair with black arms, $43.50 (No. 342-214); an adult side chair, $26.25 (No.

341-214); and an adult Boston rocker, $34.75 (No. 183-214).

There is an additional shipping charge which is collected at the time of delivery. This ranges from $7.00 to locations on the East Coast to $21.00 for shipment to the West Coast.

Those interested in purchasing a chair should send a written request, including the address to which the chair should be shipped, and a check for the cost of the chair to Mr. Martin G. Mand, 715 Bristol Road, Sharpley, Wilmington, Delaware 19803. Checks should be made payable to The Mary Washington Club of Delaware. Full payment (not including the shipping charges) must be made in advance.

Hello Classmates!

Time again for sending in news. Hope everyone is enjoying the summer and vacations.

On May 22 I enjoyed a phone chat with Annie Twombly Kelly. She and husband were with their daughter in Richmond. Annie and Alonzo had been to the Eastern Shore on a visit to Annie's sick brother. The Kellys stay well and Annie attends many social functions and church affairs.

On May 22nd, I attended the 125th anniversary of Black Creek Baptist Church, located in Southampton County near Franklin, Va. My husband had been a pastor at this church and I was delighted to see many old friends and co-workers. Later in the afternoon I visited with Jessie Daugherty Edwards '26 and Miss Edwards Hana, who spent many summer seasons at Fredericksburg Normal in the early years. The members of Class 1928 may be interested to learn that Jessie is a widow with an son, living near Franklin, and she also has one granddaughter. Lois is also a widow, she and Jessie live together. They have been my good friends for many years.

I had another privilege during the month of April when I attended a devotion service of a Baptist paragon on Guyton's Island, where I had lived for seven years during my husband's pastorate there.

The biggest news I have to report was our "get-together" at "Snagly" in June. The account follows: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore (Ex-tenite Broadbent) entertained a group of MWC girls of early days at a covered dish luncheon on June 18th at "Snagly," their country home in Essex County. It was a delight to greet each one, some after fifty years had elapsed. The guests were from various classes. There was much conversation, sometimes all talking at once, as women are sometimes prone to do. I never once heard any complaints or tales of woe. Each person was cheerful and grateful for life. Neither did anyone attempt a solution for the ills of society. We just had a good time together.

Those present were: Thelma Ellis Sutton, Imogene Daniel Cummin, her mother, Imogene Ellis Daniel, Margaret Sayer Ransome, Mary S. Saxon, Matilda Hulse Mann, Virginia Bates, Marianne Murray, Josephine Spidle, Janet LaCrosse Hankins, Charlotte Rice (Parey) Weymouth, Fawcett Nelson Sale, Isabel Willis Bates, Gladys Haddad Moore, her husband, Mae Moore and grand-daughter, Liza, and Ruth Carter Velities.

A recent letter from Elsie Wood Rice, who had been visiting relatives and friends in Northern Pa. and Gettysburg, Md. Elsie had an opportunity to visit a granddaughter in Calif., but doesn't like traveling well enough to go. She is really missing a great trip.

Was surprised to read that Carolyn Pollard Nelson '63 has a new son. I noticed she named it for her father, Barbara Bruce Moody Jones of the same class. She has a new son also. Each of these girls were among the first of my second graders at Montpelier School in Hanover County.

I would like so much to hear from some of

I am ashamed to have so little news, but you classmates just will not write.

A letter from Effie Berry Fuqua a few days late for the last publication told me of a terrible automobile accident they were in last October. She was in four different hospitals and didn't get out until the middle of January. She sustained a broken left leg, broken right arm and broken pelvis. Harry wasn't hurt as badly. He had a broken right wrist, eleven broken ribs and a terrible blow to his head. He was in the hospital for five weeks. As soon as Effie could leave the hospital, they went to the home of her daughter, Virginia Mayfield, for six weeks. When she discovered she could not walk and go home, they rented a first floor apartment near her daughter for a year. She also wrote that last April 23rd they celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary. All the children came and they had a lovely family reunion.

The first part of July Littleton Broadbent Moore '15 had a large number of the Mary Washington Alumnae at her lovely home in Millers Tavern for basket picnic dinner. Josephine Spidle and I were the only ones from Class '17 but we all had a good time.

On August 8th Nancy Eubank Rea and her husband celebrated their 50th Golden Anniversary by their children. I wish I could have gone, but I could only be there in spirit.

Every one of you start planning now to go to Homecoming next spring when we will celebrate our 50th Class Reunion—April 26-30, 1972.

Mary Ellen Burke Donald, Beatrice White Minter and I took a grand trip in June through nine states. Bee and I did all of the driving, which isn't too bad for seventy-two year olds.

Mary Ellen wants me to go to Spain, Portugal, and Greece with her this fall.

Please, "girls," write to me and let me know the news, so I can put it in our news.

The last months I have had no word from any of you girls and I was about to decide there would be no letter this time when "surprise!" as my little granddaughter Anne says when she opens the front door—for this time there came a letter from my dear friend and yours, Ruby Besley Douglass I read it was the newest letter I have had from Ruby in many a day. Ruby's husband, Charles, has retired but she says they both are working just as hard as they ever did and each day is filled to the brim with so many things. Ruby and her husband work for a Sunday School class besides being very active in other phases of her church. Hubert is a deacon, chairman of horticulture committee (you know from that last that they are Baptists, just in case you may have forgotten) and also he has other duties and responsibilities at the church.

Ruby also added a news note about our classmate, Adelaide Billingsley Van Lier. Adelaide lives out from Charlottesville, her place is called The Pine Cone. Ruby went to see her and to enjoy her roses and chrysanthemums. She said they are so gorgeous, many more beautiful than those grown in hot houses. She furnishes flowers often for her church and for weddings. So thanks Ruby for the little extra note about Adelaide.

If you enjoy hearing about your classmates, then know they will like to hear about you. So get busy and send me some news about your classes. Suppose you are right, while the urge is on me, I hope I need to hear from you before the middle of October so please hurry these letters right along.

I have not received much mail from you but I do have some news to relate.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Horn (She is the former Gladys Omohundro '01) was guests at my home in July Mrs. Horn attended college at the time I was a two-year senior in school, then completed her B.S. degree and earned her M.S. degree at the College of William and Mary, where she taught one year when her husband was in the navy and her husband had had a long career in the Washington schools as teachers and administrators. They own an farm in Virginia. Va. located near Washington, D.C. and are active in the Methodist Church, the Eastern Star and the Masonic Lodge. They stopped by on their way home from Fernan College where Mr. Horn is training for the ministry. The College brings in outstanding people from all areas of church concern for a two-week session where many problems are brought through.

News came that Ruth Frebble Schultz and her husband have returned to Lynchburg after a number of years. You may recall that Ruth left the College at the end of our junior year because she was taught junior high school in Lynchburg for four years and returned to MWC to complete her degree in August, 1931. After that she did graduate work at the Univ. of North Carolina and also taught at E.C. Glass High School for 16 years. In 1944 she married Bernard R. Schultz of Salem, Oregon. After he returned from World War II, they moved to Washington, D.C. Ruth taught at Marjorie Webster Junior College for one year and then in the Alexandria schools for 30 years. Her husband is a management expert with the Department of the Interior with his recent retirement, was transferred to Calif., so they spent the last seven years in the Sacramento area. Ruth writes that she enjoys antiquing and reading. You can contact her at their new home: 369 Woodland Ave., Lynchburg, Va.

I have been studying art history at the Univ. of Va. this year in preparation for studying and living abroad. The Russians and Asian trips will be very enjoyable for an unfortunate fall which injured my elbow and leg. I have had a good winter and early summer, but it has all been worthwhile. The faculty here is superb, but one could scarcely expect any of them to understand an old student's interest in the subject. I consider it under the microscope to brighten one's declining years.

Anne McCauley, who will be a sophomore this year at Mary Washington, is a near neighbor, living a short distance down the road I was most pleased when I learned she had chosen Mary Washington.

It is great to hear from Ann Newcomb Harris: "I have been out of contact for years and would like to renew my membership in the Alumnae Association. I have finished teaching 20 years in home economics in the state of Delaware, and I plan to retire after next year. My first husband passed away nine years ago this past November 21, 1970. I married his brother Harold, and am very happy."

A card was received from Mary Helsabeck Townsend mailed in Poland says: "Our trip has been wonderful. Paris was grand but hot. Vienna and Salzburg beautiful with flowers everywhere and everything so clean. Munich nice with buildings 1,000 years old that look like they would last forever."

Deris Staggenden called to tell me of the passing of Myrtle Ball's husband. Bill was a NASA Research Scientist at Langley Air Force Base. He was primarily responsible for Echo I and the Explorer series. He was the recipient of several awards in the aerospace field. We have lost one of our brilliant scientist and our sympathy goes to the 5 children and Myrtle.

The reunion of the Peter Francisco descendants was enjoyed by 125 in the shade of our big oak. Peter Francisco, a frontiersman in the War here noted for his strength and bravery, is known as the "Giant of the Revolution." Apologies go first to Winole Hudson Hodgson for being put on the Last List. She was actually put with the Class of '39. She was in the class of 1939, but was sent news of others in our class.

Jane Adams was married in the early 40's and was living in Little Rock, Ark. can contact her.

Dotie Vorse Humphries married a Washington dentist in 1940. They live at 1881 N. Ingleside, Arlington, Va. They have two beloved daughters and a son in high school.

Helen Gibson answered her name on the missing list. After living in several places, she is now living in Radford. Her husband, Bob, is Dean of Education at Radford College.

I have talked with Virginia Reel Winston. She promises to let me know when the comes to Richmond to see her daughter, Judy. After graduation from MWC Judy became a buyer in one of the Richmond department stores.

I had a delightful visit with Dr. Moss, our class sponsor, this past May. He is retired from Lengwood College, but still resides in Farmville.

To wind up this news let me ask for a list of others, who attended our '70 reunion, to come forth and volunteer to take their turn for a year.

Add I—more, that is, to our Class of '43 roster—Ann Dennis Ryan! Thanks go to Ann Clarke Mann who sent the Alumnae "cut" news to her. Ann Ryan has been in Calif. most of the time since '43. She has 5 sons: the oldest is 21, the youngest in junior high school in a Vietnam. She is chairman of the home economics department in San Clemente, where she has been teaching for 12 years. She would love to hear from some of our class. Her address is 309 Sonoma, San Clemente Calif. 92673.

The David Scotts (Jean Seneca) are in the news again. Daughter Mary, 19, is one of the 3-C graduates to be presented at the lovely and traditional memorial Dedman Bill in Raleigh's Memorial Auditorium on September 10. In June, another daughter, Susan, 16, sent the Girls 16 Division of the Eastern Carolina Tennis Tournament in Goldboro. Mother Jean won the Wilmington

City Tennis Tournament a couple of years ago.

Some of you may remember Jean was a p.e. major and in 1943 came to St. Mary's (Episcopal girls' school) Prep and Junior College, Raleigh, where she met her married David Scott, former member of the N.C. Institute of Government at Chapel Hill, and now a lawyer in Wilmington, N.C. They have 11 children: Mary and Jean, David, 24, former Randolph Macon student, Isabel, 22, an Agnes Scott alumna and Margaret (12 yrs old).

One of the happiest experiences of many years in May when I saw and visited with "Nance" Inglis Russo after 23 yrs! I discovered I was within 12 miles of Virginia heights. I'm at Bear Mountain. She had lunch and we yaked for 2 hours about places, people and experiences. She and Mike have a son, Mike (13), and daughter, Mary Frances (10). Mike is a golf manager in a private club. She is secretary of the Westchester Chapter MWC. It seems all chapters have the same problem—getting the people OUT.

On the same trip I had an opportunity to talk with Elise Lilly McClellan in Peekskill. It is so good to talk and see all of you. Elise and her husband, who has a son in the 9th grade and a daughter at Bucknell. Her husband is from Ireland and teaches in vocational school.

For a long time I run across information that Carolyn Pittman Day is in Fayetteville, N.C. I tried to call and the phone was out of order. I believe Carolyn was at MWC '29.

At this writing I am headed on vacation north to Jersey and New England. I hope I have been able to contact many of you. BUDDO WRITE.

Good Morning to all of you!
It is time for another "chat" across the miles and I only wish that more of you would write the four of us and tell us your plans, your dreams, and your ambitions as it would make our columns much easier to write and more interesting to read. At last, I have heard from some of you and a special thank you goes to all who took the time to write. Joan Morgau Bolton and Su have announced the arrival of Jeffrey Stewart Bolton in Ojai, Calif. Congratulations to both of you and your family, Joan.

Do you remember our freshman class president, Betsy Carter? She was a beautiful blonde and a very nice sister. Jane was a sophomore at MWC the same year. Well, I finally found Betsy again by writing to her charming mother. She reports that she is now married and has two children, her husband died in Viet Nam after being there for a year and she has been married and was happy to add 5 more children to the family. When she wrote, she was expecting another child, so by now Mr. and Mrs. Carter Denton on Mount Brook, are expecting the announcement of the 6th child in the home, or the 6th or the 10th depending upon whether Betsy had one or twins or triplets! She says she expects another child and that there is never a dull moment. I remember our dear Betsy as well. I still have pictures of her and her roomies out in the snow with fur coats on and their hair blowing in the wind. I hope that Peggy Adressa Musick goes to her church. She has bumped into several girls from our class from N.Y. to Texas. Let us hear from you and tell us about your newest plans.

Alice Huff Donawody wrote expressing her happiness in her new position as director of guidance and related fields in a new high school near Kentville. Congratulations, Alice, and let us know more about your new position, please.

Mary Kirtley Sartis arrived in Williamsburg, Virginia, for the latter part of May and had a lovely time visiting with Mary, her husband Rick and two little sons, Kip and Kart. We had dinner in Williamsburg and had a lovely time. I hope that Mary and her family will have dinner with my family. We enjoyed having them so very much and hope that none of you will stop by Williamsburg to see us. Come again real soon, Mary!

A letter arrived from our junior year comie, Mary Lando Noland Adams. The news of her father's death saddened me and I wish to extend sympathy to Mary Lando and her family from all of us at this time. Mary Lando's mother will spend the summer with Richard and me in California. Mary Lando still likes to teach. She is a son in high school now and two children in junior high. How time does fly. Hurry home, Mary. I'll be looking forward to hearing from you and your lovely, wonderful class. I know all of you are busy but remember to let us know your news so that our "chat" across the miles will be the best one you ever listened to or read!

Have a wonderful day.

Fondly, Kay
Sorry I missed the last newspaper. I'm hoping you Gals will have lots of news after a busy summer.

Sue Ann Waters and I met for a lengthy lunch recently. We hadn't seen one another since our working days in Washington. We were both talking about eating! Sue and Bob are still in Virginia and have a brand of full new sailboat. Their two children grew for then, so they are really a sailing family. The last I heard, they were off on a ten day cruise.

Received a good many notes this time from people we haven't heard from in years! I received a letter from Carol Oberholzer that her husband, Ed, is still with Dupont as a research engineer. Carolyn is a librarian and in charge of two elementary schools. They visited a great deal of time enjoying camps and camping throughout Kentucky and Virginia. In past summers the Herels have been backpacked through part of the AT in the Smokies and have more unusual hobby is beachcombing with a metal detector. As Carolyn puts it, "While I haven't made a fortune, I have found a few class rings and a gold wedding band."

Judy Shanks Eldemaster writes that she has two boys, ages three and one. Her husband Jack is practicing law in Pittsburgh. Judy is a project engineer at one of our classmates, Betty McGovern Baldwin has several children and is living in Haddonfield, N.J. Helene Martin Vest has three children and living in Summit, N.J. Helene was so pleased that I tracked her down that she wrote me a nice note. Her husband, Dan, is a project engineer with Celanese. Helene taught for awhile but she retired to rear her family.

Jody Deleahy is living in Woburn, Mass. She is a nurse and her master's, she went to Europe for a time.

Barbara Craft Grant writes that they have finally stopped moving around and are living in the Washington area. Her husband Walter, is the assistant resident engineer on the Second Hamant-Roads Tunnel. Barbara has two children, ages 10 and 8.

Barbara and Gustaf's family were recently transferred to the American Embassy in Ethiopia.

Sandy Beck is still living in Alexandria, Virginia, and is an administrative assistant to the president of a management consultant firm in Arlington.

Mary Whitford was married in Rhode Island in 1979 to David R. Tischler of Buffalo, New York, and Dartmouth '54. They moved from N.Y. to historic Louisville Square in Boston at that time—and are delighted. Before leaving NYC she was an educational consultant for six years and is now the Assistant to the Director of Admissions at Babson College in Wellesley, Mass.

Barbara and Gustaf's family were recently transferred to the American Embassy in Ethiopia.

The Guest's are spending the summer at the Little League Park where both boys are pitchers. Peter has made the all-star team from our area and is now in the process of playing the teams from Albany. Sue keeps you busy.

I don't too early to begin thinking about August. I just read April 29, 1972. Let's have a big turn out! It would be great fun to get together again.

Hello again.
No letter from Marcelline Phillips Ireland. She was very enthusiastic about the New Jersey alumnae camp meeting. They had a luncheon and really enjoyed their get-together. She saw the Carmine Carrao Janssen who had much news to share. Marcelline chatted quite a while with JoAnn Hearn Walker. JoAnn's husband John is vice president of the N.J. National Bar and has two sons. John and Jerry. Marcella also sent news of Marcella Spence Harrison. She and Bill vacationed in Spain and Portugal. Marcella and JoAnn Dunder Alexander—she's in Pa. Marcella is looking forward to the fall meeting, to say the least!

Three of our friends, Jan Brooks Papadatos and the children are right! Greece They left the end of June and plan to stay 'til the first of September on school begins. Would say that the little food of that country. Poor Nick stayed in N.Y. and is busy remodeling his restaurant. Have already received a "wish-you-were-here" card from Ann. He will be before leaving. Ann mentioned hearing from Judy Gouley Kamishian. Since all of Judy's children are of school age now, she has volunteered as the summer hostess and living in Sweden. Ann says JoAnn Lautenslager Dodd and Larry were planning a summer cruise.

John Broadbush has no time for tracing this year unfortunately. The landline business is too busy. Joan Tucker says they will really miss having the elder of students around. The Broadbushs did have the opportunity for a visit in June with Joan's parents. Another busy family belongs to Ann Watkins Stevens. Day camp, Bible school, swimming lessons, piano lessons, sports, just to name a few! And to top it all, a family reunion was planned in July at Myrtle Beach, S.C. Whew!

And speaking of reunions—Over Memorial Day Weekend Joan Essick Woloson and Kent arrived at the Leonards. There aren't enough adjectives to describe all the fun they had! Bud is on his way to Oklahoma but Carol Daehler has Dale and Judy to keep her busy. Next, on to the Leftists (Nancy Croftland and Bruce). They spent all of Saturday night they had three girls—now—Tracy, Wendy and Amy. And Sunday we found them at Chrystene Bing Kiar's and John's. A picnic for all the children except the Wolosons. In between all that, Joan phoned Dede Reeder Harby for a chat. Joan passed on the information that Sybil Child West and Bill are to be returning to Falls Church, Va. and Joan's mother Joan and Kent had a lovely vacation in Puerto Rico and St. Thomas.

Luana Harbort Mortimer announced the birth of her third daughter, named Elizabeth. They expect to be in Wis. at least another year and then who knows, says Ann.

A surprise letter from Barbara Hunter Kellogg and Gustaf's family. Barbara has three girls and a boy. And a quite various assortment of pets. Gust is a partner in an architectural firm in New Haven. In their spare time they are contemplating their 20th year old Conn. farmhouse. Barbara chairs the board of the local nursery school, runs the program of present aids in the public schools, just auditing a course in New Dimensions in Education and she must take a breath somewhere. Just great hearing from her.

By the way it's great hearing from all of you! Anyone? So please don't hesitate to drop a note, letter, etc. Keep those cards a "come in" if you wish. I've been a quick summer. Back to the grid in September. Tom is going to ease the pain by taking me to Col., Wyo., Ariz., N. Mex., and Utah. You wonder why I stay here? It's going to sign my carbon copy is blood! He promised!
So long for a while. Take care.

Just a short note, friends, as I move from Virginia to Florida, then to Ohio where we will live for the next three years. Note we will address above. As I write this we are not yet moved in and my notes and letters for the autumn are all in the state. I'll have to catch up in the next issue. Please let me hear from you. Although our newsletter seemed to cover a lot of things, I realize we are way behind in collecting current news. As soon as I am settled I'll be able to contact some of you individually—until then do write. Old friends, I'll be glad to hear from all hands. Rose Bennett Gilbert says her home will be the feature in a before and after article in an upcoming issue of her newsletter. I'll be glad to hear from you. You will be as eager as I am to see that issue.

Hi Everyone.
I've received several letters saying how wonderful our 10th Reunion was! I know the glow is still with me when I think of the fun we had. The years don't seem to diminish our ties to my friends at all, and we all would like to get together again. I don't really disappointing aspect for several of us who lived with her, was a note in the mail the week after I moved from Sweden. Ann Armitage who, somehow, did not know that April 16-18 was our Reunion and she was in Fredericksburg for lunch Friday! She and her daughters were in the area and were way home to Brookfield, Conn. from their yearly visit to Florida to visit Bob's folks. What a shame. Sandee, we would have loved seeing you!

Concerning some of the girls who started out with the Class of '62 who came to our reunion for which I didn't have much info last time, I would like to mention Mrs. W. M. L. Logue and lives in Chesterwood, Md. Mary LeBlanc Ingle came from Alexandria without husband Carl E. and the "unidentified girl" in the column. I met Mrs. Betty Smith Robertson who lives with husband Howard in Richmond. My apologies, girls, we were glad you came to our Reunion!

Marilyn Messier Whitmore wrote that, that she survived the earthquake. The epicenter was less than five miles away, so their house received quite a lot of damage—all repairable. I hope that the congratulations are in order to Bill and Marilyn, who welcomed their third daughter Dyan Nadeau last November.

My next subject is marriage indeed. Our new class agent, Peggy Howard Hodgkins had her precious 18-month old daughter Beth in a drowning accident at the Hodgkins' family cottage at Bearwater Lake, New Industry, Maine, on July 2, 1971. It is almost impossible to reconcile the loss of a child, but Peggy's faith and courage helped to ease the emotional ache. The entire class, I am sure, joins me in extending deepest sympathy to you, Peggy, and to your family.

Pepper Jacobs Gerner who recently lost her brother in a freak happening concerning her poisoning, and to Vaughan Hargrove Scott whose mother died of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered in December. Let next time, (deadline October 15 for class news), write!

Here it is August—my deadline is due and not much news has arrived. Guess everyone is so vacationed in. I have received notes from the Alumnae Office asking for ideas for our tenth reunion—if you have any suggestions, please forward them to me or the Alumnae Office, Box 315 College Station, Fredericksburg. Also, if you wish to help or serve on a committee, please let us know.

Here are some new addresses I have.
Mrs. Lee Ericson Kern, Schenectady, N.Y.
Mrs. Irene Mary Nichols, Alton, Kansas.
Mrs. Nancy Cheek Mitchell, Lancaster, Pa.
Mrs. Alexander Yeffit, Hubbard, Winchester, Va.
Mrs. Phyllis Shumak Harrah, Charleston, S.C.
Mrs. Carol Lucie Young, Leesburg, Va.
Mrs. Suzanne Friscoll Weber, Towson, Md.
Mrs. Barbara Alton Stocker, Burr Ridge, Hinsdale, Ill.
Miss Barbara Stanekavich, Newark, N.J.
Mrs. Virginia Brown Rummonds, Lafayette, Calif.
Miss Jane Rosenthal, San Antonio, Texas.
Mrs. Beverly Spence Persell, Newport, R.I.
Mrs. Elizabeth Ritchie Padfield, New York City.
Mrs. Leonie Ellis Olson, Bryans Road, Md.
If any of these people are in your local area—hope you'll get together.

As far as I am in the midst of building—my summer has been filled with decisions concerning the house—never knew how hard it is so soon to be able to choose from—but really quite a thrill.

An eager to hear from you.

Until then,

Sorry to have missed the last column but the deadline time was so tight. I was moving and I began working part-time. We are now in Oceanide, Calif., but now have a bigger house with a 19 acre park across the street and an ocean view. Needless to say we love it! Please note the new address when you write.

Just after I had sent in my news for the March edition, I heard from two classmates that we have not heard from a long while. Gayle Harris Stevens and Susan Woodward Kilborn Gayle and Tom have owned a small farm and old house in Eaton, Ohio for the past three years. Gayle and Tom had just remodeled the house and Tom landed a new job with Syntha Laboratories working in animal nutrition in Charlotte, N.C. Gayle also wrote that Judy DeVul Davis and Bubba have built a house in Mechanicsville and have two small sons, John and Steve. Carolyn Deagan has gotten her Ph.D. in psychology and is working in Richmond, while Jane McKamey is with Eastman Kodak in Kingsport, Tenn. and won the Woman of the Year Award from her sorority. Our congratulations to you Jane! I'm sure by now the Stevens, including little Alicia, are settled in the Charlotte, N.C. area so do let us hear from them again. Gayle, and thank you for your news. To bring you up to date on Susan I will quote her letter: "I left MWC for UNC my junior year, graduated in English Literature and headed directly for France where I stayed (met my husband there) in 1968 when we came back to the States for Peter to have a year's fellowship at a teaching U. on a Fulbright U. Fellowship in the Fall of '69 we came to NYC where we bought a dilapidated brownstone turned rooming house in Brooklyn and three days after we moved in, Peter was offered a job in Los Angeles, Calif." The job Susan refers to is Bureau chief of Business Week's Los Angeles office. Since arriving on the West Coast, Susan wrote again that they found their dream house and she is now working as an account executive for Thomson & McKinnon Auctioneers, Inc., a brokerage house. Their new address is 3111 DeRonda Drive, Los Angeles, Calif. 90008. Loved hearing from you Susan and do keep in touch.

In June at our Chapter party I had a chance to see another long lost classmate Barbara Brown Sherrill. Barbara's husband, Jim, finished his residency in ophthalmology and about a year ago they moved from San Francisco, Calif. to California where he is now in practice. They have two small daughters, ages 2 and 1. We really had a great time bringing each other up to date and for those of you who want to get in touch, the Sherrills are now at 8400 Cliffside Lane, La Jolla, Calif. 92037. Karen Baderweaver Chapman wrote in July that Peter and Betty Smith had been in Hartford, Conn. to visit Joel and Nancy Slavin Arnone. Pete and Betty are off to Cornell U. graduate school this year where he will study double major in economics and agriculture. Joel Arnone's plebeian business is prospering and Nancy is expecting their second child around Christmas. There is as busy as ever and has taken up tennis this year.

Linda Morrison Douglas, Dave and Mark left my area in June. Linda and Mark will be living with her mother in Woodbridge for the next year while she is stationed in Germany. How do you all have enjoyed a great summer and possibly will have lots of news about your adventures for my next deadline on October 15th. See you next issue.

Our only source of news this time. She has caught up with two missing persons as well from our class: Ellen Joseph and Jackie Pugh Richards. Ellen lives at 109 Van Avenue, Westover, Va. 24056. She is teaching chemistry at the early grade of 1971. Jackie and Brent Richards live at 1060 S. Main No. 59, Brigham City, Utah 84303. Brent is attending the University of Utah, while Jackie is teaching mathematics in high school there.

Hope to hear from more of you in the next dearest time when children are off in school.

Judy

Since the last issue of the News, we have added a son to our family. "Trip" is now four months old and quite a healthy and happy little fellow. Our marriage is crazy about him and has a grand time "helping" Mommy take care of him. As our family increases, so does our need for a larger house: hence we are presently looking for a home in a tiny village called Sharps on the Rappahannock River about 15 miles from where we live now. We're looking forward to moving in about February and to spending summer holidays with swimming and boating right on our backyard.

Judy Bailey Givens was in Va this summer, minus Gory, for her semi-annual visit to her mother and father. She had a bachelor in life in Denver for a month. I had lunch with her while she was here, and she told me Margaret Roe plans to be married the second week of September and her new husband will live in the D.C. area. Judy also visited with Susan Armistead Evangelou and Harry in Hartford, Conn. and said all four graduates were doing well. Susan was considering a return to teaching in the fall. Judy and Gary still love Cal. and enjoy skiing in the winter. Last spring they took the three day raft trip down one of the rivers in western Cal. Judy is teaching in a high school this year rather than junior high and she is excited about teaching a 12th grade political science course, the plan of the courses in her dept.

Old faithful Judy Finger Bradley has once again written to supply news for my column. Judy related that she had come home to N.Y. in April for a visit and while there saw Ronna Glare Genevise and Bob, who live in Albany with their two girls. They were concerned about a move to Florida, west coast and had a hard upset N.Y. winter. Judy also talked to Carolyn Hawker Ginsburg who told her of the arrival of a daughter, Sarah. Judy writes, "Carolyn and Howard Stiller, who live in N.Y., Carolyn lives has developed quite a reputation as a haven for serious artists. She has some famous neighbors and is quite involved with her own work also."

Judy also keeps in touch with Gay Hazelwood. Gay has received a tremendous job promotion, she is now director of public relations for Kenneth C. Ludlum & Co. Inc. Gay spent a busy summer with her work and with commuting between her NY apartment and her summer place on Long Island. As for the Bradley family, they are part of the summer at their summer home in Garrett County, Md. Judy's daughter Linda has started going to nursery school this fall. Judy attended a two week training session for it.

A letter arrived from Ellen Duesbeck speaking among other things that she has accepted the chairmanship of the Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association.

From Linda Reading Pullen came a letter also. She and Barry spent an evening in NYC in June with Don and Betty. Linda and I live in Atlanta and with Ellen Duesbeck and Dennis Mahoney. From this evening, Linda learned that Don and Mary Elaine Flambo Bickers were expecting their third child during the summer.

Linda also wrote that Fred and Linda Jones Peterson, who live in California in June, are planning to get married and are complete with Babs, Kenneth and Jennifer. They planned to camp across country returning to Princeton for Fred's school in the fall.

As for the Pullen family, Linda was elected treasurer of the N.J. Chapter of the Alumnae Association, and she and Barry recently had a nice wedding vacation in Philadelphia.

One other letter arrived, this one from Ellen Leatherbury Thomasson who attended MWC for one year. She, husband Burgess and son Tommy live in New Mexico. Ellen is quoted about Fran Tallifero Thomas. How does that name sound to you Fran? Ellen also wrote that her sister, Mary Louise, class of '60, is married and has two boys and is expecting a third child.

We certainly would like to hear from some of you who have lost touch with us. Please take just a minute to write us your news for the next issue of the Alumnae News.

Carol Smith

Thanks to Barbara Kellum Latham for a very interesting letter. I simply pass on the information as she wrote it.

Betsy Stanley Klein and Burns, who are now living in Aiken, S.C. had a baby boy, Louis, in March of 1971.

According to Barbara's newspaper, (She's living in Washington, W. Va.), Mary Pacey Lytle Warren's husband Larry, was promoted to vice-president of the U.S. North Atlantic Bank in Greensboro this spring. They have two children—Katherine Lyle, 4, and G. Lawrence Jr., 1½.

Barbara Downing Lumley is working for the Internal Revenue Service in Springfield, Va. Her husband, Charles, is in Korea for a tour of duty. Also in Springfield are Virginia Latta, Sheela and Charles, who had a baby, Jennifer Winston, in February, 1971.

Barbara writes that she is president of the Childbirth Association of the Mid-Ohio Valley. She is a member of the Lamaze Technique of prepared childbirth. Recently, they won a victory by convincing the local hospital to allow the fathers in the delivery room, as she and Roger have discussed.

I was delighted to see Sybil Norriss Taylor '65 at a local shopping center recently. She, Paul, and daughter, Kimberly Anne, are visiting her parents in California this summer, while awaiting news from graduate schools. Paul plans to enter this fall. They returned from a military tour in West Baden, Germany last spring. While there, they met, respectively, and Sybil taught elementary school.

On a sad note, we extend our sympathy to Anne Turner Fitzgerald '63, whose husband was killed in a plane crash in 1970, while serving a computer in Massachusetts. Anne was expecting their second child in June.

Hi! Hope everyone had a nice summer. Ran into Jackie Ward Fulcher while I was in Norfolk in June. She and Claude now have a daughter, Lisa, born the end of May.

She called in May while on sloopster at Dulles. (She's still flying for Delta.) She enjoys her job, especially by flying privileges.

Jack Strawbridge Dickinson and Fred happily announced the birth of daughter, Heather Noelle, born on 25 June 1971. Congratulations, Judy!! I understand by way of Norfolk that it's a good thing she had a girl as her nursery is full of ruffles and bows! Judy's address is 2222 Carey Rd., Kingston, North Carolina.

Judy recently with Abbie Donald Taylor. She has been busy designing and silk screening 15th-century paper dolls to sell at the annual Waterford Fair. She is also teaching art classes in the area. In addition to all this, she is refinishing parts of her home and reupholstering antique chairs.

Margaret Molten Goldman vacationed in the Adirondacks with her children this summer. She recently moved into a Georgetown townhouse. She now works for the Department of Labor in Washington, D.C. Janet Armstrong Miller and her husband Brian (13 years) spend most summer weekends on their parents' yacht. Janet attended MWC our freshman year.

Some news from Ellen Duesbeck. She became Mrs. Earl W. Fuller, Jr. in 1966 and now lives in Gainesville, Fla. Her husband completed his internship and two-year residency in internal medicine at the U. of Fla. and is now beginning a two-year fellowship in cardiology. Meanwhile, Martha taught in public schools in Va. and Florida before their two sons were born—Travis in 1969 and Eric in 1971.

Brenda Hand Farrell—where are you??? Later, I have taken up bicycling riding. Dick Lane (Tommy's father) is back in the U.S. and usually ride after supper. It's great fun. I just finished taking a class in candle making. It was so enjoyable that I plan to take another next month. This fall I will teach a class of 4-year-olds in a local nursery school one day a week. Lisa will attend the same school in the 5-year-old class.

The next deadline is in October, so do write and send news and new statistics.

This time a nice long letter from Irene Hedgecock Adams who left MWC after her 11 year to complete her course in medical technology at the Danville hospital. Irene's husband, Roger, is the Central Division Manager for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. in Chicago. He tells The David Frost Show and The Mike Douglas show on television stations. He says he once had a baby girl who was born Feb. 18, 1971. Thank you for writing, Irene. I hope last issue answered some of your questions about other '66 grads! I do not know Kates.

Ann Kales Lindholm met Susan on R&R in Honolulu this spring—knew she had a good time and will be glad when he returns—this is Steve's address: Anyone going through York, Pa. please call him. She loves company!

Also, a nice letter came from Elaine Gerlach Good who finished at William & Mary. Ron is now the swimming coach at U.Va. They have four children—one girl and three boys!

Sandra Kes is beginning her second year of teaching seventh grade English in the Samsboro (Conn.) school district. She says that she taught in Dover, Delaware.

That seems to be all the news for now. Do write—I'll be fun bearing from everyone... and I love to get mail!

Gerry

Greetings from Woodbridge—being a new agent, I had to hunt around for my news. Hopefully next time many of you will write and let me know what you're doing so I can pass on. Those of you who are in the area are many! Give me a call sometime.

I've heard about several girls from the Class of '65. Jane Knight lives in Arlington and works for ACTION. Jean Rathjen, Jean and husband work in Maryland. Both Jean and husband work in Raleigh. Helvey Robinson is now in Ohio. She and "Robbie" became the proud parents of a beautiful girl, Peter, born last November. Debbie Hewitt Pifer and husband Jerry are in Northern Va. eagerly awaiting the birth of their first child in October. Susie Weber Minster and husband, Tom, are in the area. Tom will soon be moving to Arlington. I am so enjoying being a mother and housewife these days.

Back to our class now. Margie Miller Beudet has recently moved to Houston, Texas, where her husband is setting up medical practice. They have one child. Someone else who is on the move is my suite mate Mary Ann Pyne White. I'm really excited in welcoming Mary Ann and daughter Courtney back to Quantico. They have been in Omaha, Neb. for the past two years and are glad to be back on the East Coast again.

I recently attended the lovely wedding at Jant's home where I met my old friend. At the wedding were a few MWC girls, Mary Camper informed me that she is still working for Social Security but is now in Lynchburg and really enjoys her job. Mary Ann Hanley is now a buyer at a department store in North Plainfield, N.J. Charlotte says she loves her work and finds it very challenging. She is also a member of the Cheryl is a bank examiner in Philadelphia. She planned to spend her summer touring Europe. Write and tell us about it, Cheryl.

Also, I heard from Ellen Duesbeck. She is another year or so. Besides looking forward to a new life together, they are also anxiously awaiting the completion of a new townhouse in Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Sally Albright Brennen recently taught a home in Fairfax. I understand she now has two children, Judy Hansen Wilcox and Mach are now in Charlottesville where Judy is an instructor at U.Va. I understand she is also in the banking business. Premits Davis Smith is enjoying being a housewife and managed to stay within visiting distance of me. Margaret, Maria Elena, and C. Adeline Wender-Caballero and her husband Carlos, at last report, on the other hand were getting ready to move to Assunção Paragway, where Mariannne was to study. Paragway, Guaraní, the national language of Paragway. Carlos is from Paragway and Mariannne was born there. He took over the Library and after he received his master's in library science from Syracuse, in her very nice nephew, Mariannne also told me that she will be married to Helen Bradford, who is a primary principal in Camp Grande, Brazil.

I hope that, before the next issue of the Alumnae News, some of our most interesting and long enough to send me some news. As for Luitpold and me, we have bought a house here in Richmond, III., and are keeping busy furnishing it, while Luitpold teaches and does research for his next book, and while I teach one Latin course with Helen Catolani and study Greek and Latin for my preliminary P.D. exams which I will take during the second semester next year.

Bobbie

My apologies to Margaret "Meg" Livingston Alston, who, in writing her column last issue, I received such an exciting letter from her, so me just a moment to catch you up. Until recently, husband and I had been in the U.S. Office on the USS Chilton, and Meg decided to "tag-along" in the Med Cruise. During her travels, she explored France, Spain, Sweden, and Italy, her husband, her mother, and her sister, her aunt, her nephew, visiting Florence and Pisa was "what a thrill to see all the pictures from my art history book in person." Athens was her favorite spot, with Rome a close second.

Meg's letter continued "We have lots to look forward to this summer, too, as we have just become members of the U.S. Ash will be getting out of the USMC this fall and has been accepted for graduate school (in accounting) at Florida State. The best of all is that both of them and please let us hear about that new addition soon."

Another classmate and family have joined us in Richmond. This time it's Lawson Stillman Greenwood, husband Jerry and son Jody. Jerry was released from the Army in June and was taken a job with the Secret Service here. They are already settled in a beautiful home and Lawson is toying with the idea of going back to teaching for a few years. Artificially.

I want to visit Julia "Penny" Wheeler. Waters and brand new son David. A few days ago, we were out on playing with the new baby, Watkins Waters. She, too, is a new mother. Daughter Leslie is three months old now.

At the summer I had the thrill of being married at the marriage of Lida Charnock and Michael Barrett, Lt. jg, United States Navy. Michael had been stationed at Little Creek near Norfolk's Virginia Beach residence, and when his orders were changed to the Panama Canal Zone, he decided he wouldn't leave without her. They are now in the Panama Canal Zone, empty apartment awaiting the arrival of their belongings! It seems that Linda has already had contact with some unbecome official in the Zone. Thus far, she has killed one scorpion and have seen many iguanas—they are all over everywhere! On the other side, I am certainly sure of the aspects of being a beautiful three years, with unlimited opportunities to travel throughout Central and South America. Linda was a very good friend to my classmates, so let me pass her address along: Mrs. Michael J. Barrett, Box 506, Fort Amador, Canal Zone.

My hope is that the issue will find Dick and me as new parents. We are counting the days until November! In the meantime, hope you will write with tales of exciting travel and new developments and positions for fall.

Pat

I was fortunate enough to receive some news this month as well as to contribute some news worthy of my class. As you probably noticed from the name change, I married a Farmer! Bob is a major in the Army and is stationed at Fort Belvoir. He is originally from New York and was a graduate from City College, and had been in the Army eleven years. Needless to say, he will be making it a career. We'll be in the Fredericksburg area for the summer, which means I'll return to Stafford High School to teach this fall. We were married on August 7, 1971, and are going on our wedding trip Sept. 5 to Europe to visit

Germany and the French Riviera.

Stephanie Danahy Shelborne and her husband, Jimmy, are from Hampton Roads. Stephanie is a graduate of the University of Virginia, and she seems to be quite contented taking care of her baby girl, Mary Sledge.

Ann Scott Lasker wrote to state that she had completed the requirements for her M.S. in chemistry from VPI and that while doing so she had been working as a chemist for a pharmaceutical firm in a Richmond. She was to have her first baby in July, but I haven't heard its sex yet. She and Kenny are buying an old car and are quite excited about renovating it.

Betty Woodard Cross sent me the most creative and touching of letters. I've ever seen telling of the birth of the son, Joseph Austin, on July 24, 1971. They are still living in Cville.

Elizabeth Sawyer Dodson also wrote that they had bought a house in Hilton Village, a section of Newport News, and that she is still teaching math there. Steve, her husband, is still with Lenora, working as an optical designer. He also said that Faibe Co Henkell had gotten together with them in June for a trip to the west to find the "right place." Faibe was in graduate school at VCU last year and received her degree in June. She is now teaching in June. I taught math in a hard core poverty area until they left.

James Hamilton Curtis '67 has retired from teaching as a high school teacher in a private school in November. Her husband works with Steve.

She Haseock '70 who left MWC after her sophomore year of college in June is now working in Arizona and is staying there.

I also heard from Helen Sullivan Lowee who is still in Valparaiso. Her husband, Bobby, has about a year and then they'll be civilians again—she seems rather excited at the thought! Next year she'll be teaching sophomore English instead of junior high and seems to think she'll enjoy the change. In the meantime, she and Bobby are enjoying their new boat which they take fishing in the Gulf. Helen must be rather proficient at fishing now, as my last visit she had just purchased a rod and reel.

Grace Barrett decided after one year at the high school level that she liked elementary teaching and is returning to the elementary school to teach in Stafford. Those seniors are a bit pathetic at times!

That's about all for now. Those of you who haven't written please do so soon.

Gail

My news this issue comes gratis Carol Jensen Silzman who sent me a long letter about some of our classmates who have been absent from the column for a while.

Thank you, Carol! Jean Whitaker will start her third year of med school at MCV in Aug., and has had a busy summer working with handicapped children. Pam Rodriguez Adler and Gordie are now in Arlington, Virginia. Gordie is finishing a course for his CPA license. Linda Hawkins was married to Walter Beverly in August '70, and they are continuing their studies, she at VCU in the library, and he with the government in Maryland. Carol Seaton recently married a dental student at VCU in June '71, and will probably continue to teach in the Richmond area elementary schools. Carol said that she is teaching Young Joe, who is a mathematician at Dahlgren. Her hubby, Phil, is finishing his degree in math at VCU. Diana Miller is taking time out this August from her job as assistant buyer at Thalhimer to let married! Who's the lucky fella, Diana? Speaking of wedding, I understand Ann Jensen is having a beautiful one in July. Miller '70 attended. Mary Margaret Marston

Monroe '68 and her husband, Rick are in Atlanta. Mary Margaret is considering grad school or a director of a child care center. Catherine Russi Watkins '68 and Joe are living in Fredericksburg. He is with the Bureau of Narcotics, and may be transferred to New York. Carol is working for the VA Employment Comm.

Kathy McKerran Jones and Kathy Koster Walker are teaching in Stafford County, as is Carol. Carol is also a buyer herself. Carol is to summer school with Jess Wilson '70, who married a fellow from Dahlgren in June '70 and shared her strike to complete certification. Carolyn Jones is teaching fourth grade this year, and her new husband of June '71 (Gary) is finishing his degree in math (Ph.D. in applied math), and is working on his thesis.

"Thank you, Carol! More of you please fill me in on 'news.' I'm always glad to hear from any of you. As for Kenny and me, we are still in Charlotte at the same jobs, and are learning to like it here a little. . . though we do miss someone for 'Hollands,' and are still missing the 'house back home' song. We don't get much of a chance to get back to Virginia but we hope to be able to make the trip before too long. . . that way maybe some of our old classmates can get together. . . Uh, then, do write!"

Ruth Ann

I don't know if the 8 cent stamps are killing everyone or what, but I certainly haven't heard from very many people. The few words I have aren't worthy of being called letters. I'll write what I will have with a plea to you all to write me now about your exciting summers and fall activities. Please note that I have a new address. I've bought a house and when I fix it up is keeping me busy. However, we're sort of rattling around in it now with all the extra space—so I have an open invitation to any guest who'd like to visit in one of our three spare bedrooms!

My most exciting surprise postcard came from Lyn Howell Gray from Scotland! Jim had to go to Holy Loch to business this time of June and Lyn decided to go along. They had great fun touring castles, looking for the Loch Ness monster, celebrating their second wedding anniversary.

Joan Monahan Duncan and Dwight have made a drastic move from Cambridge, Mass. to Stanley, Va. Dwight was ordained into the deaconate on June 28th and is presently working in two mission churches and one mother church in Luray. Jean hopes to teach there and in meanwhile enjoying fixing up their big old house.

Carolyn Day O'Leary's husband Bob has accepted a position with the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. After training in Baltimore and D.C., they will be moving to NYC in December.

We went to Charlottesville Aug. 7th for Judy Bowker's '57 sister's wedding. Judy is teaching Spanish in a junior high here. Ann Simpson Herzog attended McGill Univ., summer session along. Linda Edie Matthews worked at the Naval Supply Center in Norfolk for the summer. I received a very happy letter from Kay Kathryn Snow, who is a programmer at Old Dominion Univ., who her husband Andy is working at NASA. I mentioned Anne Ball Gavin's lovely wedding, and she and John are also living in Norfolk.

Dixie Nell Jennings wrote that she taught art in Richmond for a year until Bob went into the Army. They and their son Matthew are now living in Columbus, Ga. Phil Bob is in Officer's Training at Ft. Benning, Ga. Oats said that in Richmond she had seen Sharon Browning, who was working on her master's degree, and Kay Evans, who works at MCV. She also mentioned that Jane Nichols Wilkinson, who is teaching elementary school in Maryland.

As a final word, I'd like to put in a plug for the Alumnae Chapter in taking orders. Mothers-to-be might like the rocking chair. I'll be glad to send information to anyone interested. My address is 605 W. 8th St. and it would be a nice to have a lot of news to send in—how about it!

Summer vacation has flown by in a split second. After afternoon handshakes, Bill and I have thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. Somehow we have managed to completely paint the outside of our house and cruise on our twenty-third cruise. I am teaching sixth grade again in the county while Bill serves as a helicopter pilot on a six month cruise to the Mediterranean. Yet just as the Marine Corp. prepares us, it will reunite us when I fly to Nice, France, at Christmas for three wonderful weeks with Bill.

The Marine Corps has brought several of our classmates to Jacksonville. Bobby Owens, Kernered, and Jackman. I am at Camp Lejeune High School while John is assigned to Camp Lejeune. Lisa Skiffers Hubbard is here with her husband and baby. They have a darling home in Swansboro. I ran into Anne Howell Wood and her husband in the PX. Anne was busy decorating their apartment and looking for a job. Sandy Sneyd Maule resided in the PX and will be on cruise she has gone home to Portsmouth, Va.

Also in this area is Mary Page Williams Walden '68. Page taught second grade last year at Camp Lejeune and is getting out of the Marine Corps in September but Page has no idea of where they will be. She, too, has enjoyed her summer of swimming and horseback riding.

Received a note from Edith Morrison Bare. Edie has been working in the Admissions Office of Penn State University while Harry has been working on his master's degree. Both love the atmosphere of University Park, Pa. In the mail was a note from Carolyn Woodruff Thompson. The Thompsons will be moving to Atlanta. The note also mentioned a manager position in a Ford Company dealership. The Navy will be moving Laura King Blakemore and husband Peter this fall also. Porter will be assigned to a recruiting station in Seattle, Washington. While on the West Coast, Laurie plans to do a great deal of traveling as well as work on her master's thesis. The Laurie plans to contact in that area is Kathy Page Feek, who has lived in Seattle with her husband Jim for the past two years.

A note from Martha Ritter's dad said that she and her husband, Fred, had moved to New York. She flies to the Caribbean, South America and Europe.

If any of you all ever heard my way, please let me know. And please let me hear from you D-F.

Just a bit of news to start the ball rolling! Our addresses are listed above. Don't forget the date is October 1971. Let me know what you are doing so that this column will be long in December.

Elsaine Owen was married on June 10th to Lt. Arthur C. Rossiter, Jr. of the Marine Corps. Kathy Fleming were attendants. The Rosenboms are living at Camp Lejeune and Elaine is teaching at Jacksonville Jr. High School.

The 1970-1971 Alumnae Fund Report

The College and the Alumnae Association wish to thank the friends listed in this report for their encouragement and support. In a very real sense they are partners in the development of the College because their gifts provide new opportunities for faculty members and students through scholarships, research and study grants, additions to the rare book and permanent art collections, and the Distinguished Visitor in Residence Program. Moreover, their interest in and enthusiasm for the college's program helps to ensure the future of quality liberal arts education.

The total of all gifts to the 1970-1971 Alumnae Fund was approximately $900.00 less than the same total for the preceding year. This is the first year in the history of the Alumnae Fund that there has not been a substantial increase in the dollar value of the gifts. Nevertheless, both the number of contributors and the number of gifts they made, set new records.

Total (1,848 contributors) ..... $27,416.63

Total unrestricted gifts ..... $24,107.13
Total restricted gifts ..... $ 3,309.50

Ellen Duschock '64 Elected Alumnae Association President

Ellen Duschock '64 has been elected President of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association for 1971-72, succeeding Ruby York Weinbrecht '48.

Elected at the June meeting of the Board of Directors, Miss Duschock was first elected to the Board in 1969 and served as first vice president (fund) during 1970-71. A junior high school teacher in Edison, New Jersey, she received a B.A. degree in history from Mary Washington College and continued her studies at the University of Virginia, where she received a Masters degree in education.

In addition to Miss Duschock's election to the presidency, four vice presidents were also elected. Named first vice president (fund) was Susan Rutan Joehnk '63, who was first elected to the Board in 1970. Bette Worsham Hawkins '48, named to the Board in 1969, was selected second vice president (homecoming); Myrtle De France '43, also a member of the Board since 1969, was elected third vice president (chapters); and Edna Gooch Trudeau '59, newly elected this year, was named fourth vice president (classes). The last two positions represent a change of the past structure of the executive committee, replacing the former third vice president who was in charge of the Alumnae Council.

Other new members of the Board who were elected last spring include Anne Hilgartner Bruckner '61, representing Zone 1; Jamie Redwood Witzel '41, representing the Classes from 1932-41; Margaret Smith Graham '47, 1942-50; Elizabeth Davies Morie '36, 1951-59; and Joanne Campbell Close '60, 1960-65.

Also serving on the Board for the first time are Sidney H. Mitchell, Professor of English, who is the faculty representative; and Brenda K. Wirt '72, representing the senior class. As immediate past president, Mrs. Weinbrecht also remains on the Board.

Other returning members of the Board include Irene Lundy Brown '39, Lucy Houston Christian '36, Sally Monroe Fox '68, Carol Pridden Gill '59, Mary Klimesmith Kelly '44, Sally Kay Souder '66, and Sarah Armstrong Worman '48.

Also serving in an ex-officio capacity are Chancellor Grellet C. Simpson, Assistant Chancellor Michael Houston; and Director of Alumnae Affairs Ann Perinich '67.

Want to Recruit a Student For MWC

The members of the Mary Washington College Alumnae can be effective in encouraging qualified students to consider attending the College. If each Alumna recommended just one prospect to the College, there would be a pool of 10,000 applicants! To help the Office of Admissions to identify potential students submit on the attached card the name and address of one or more students.

A letter from the Director of Admissions will be mailed to the student together with appropriate material. Your name will be cited as the one who recommended the prospect, unless you indicate otherwise. Should the prospect submit an application for admission you will be notified of the decision, usually between February 15 and April 1 of the student's senior year.

With a large pool of applicants Mary Washington College can continue to fulfill its role of providing a superior liberal arts education to those students who have the potential to profit from the programs here.

A student who can profit from the programs at Mary Washington College is one who has been enrolled and who has been successful in a college preparatory program while attending a secondary school. The person recommended should rank in the top quarter of his class although exceptions to this are abundant. His test results should indicate aptitude for college level work and his interests should reside in one or more of the following major programs:

American Studies
Art (Art History or Studio Art)
Asian Studies
Biology
Chemistry
Classical Civilization
Dance
Dramatic Arts and Speech
Economics
English
French
Geography and Geology
German
History
Latin

Latin American Studies
Mathematics
Music
Philosophy
Physics
Political Economy
Political Science
Pre-Foreign Service
Pre-Medical Science
Psychology
Religion
Russian Studies
Sociology (including social welfare work)
Spanish

Cooperative programs exist with other institutions for majors in medical technology, nursing, physical therapy, and speech pathology and audiology.

Work leading to post certification as either an elementary or secondary school teacher is provided at Mary Washington College.
